TO: Tirso Garza, Interim City Manager

FROM: Brenda Escalante, City Secretary

DATE: 05/22/2025

SUBJECT: Presentation on a Proclamation Declaring June 6, 2025, as National Gun Violence Awareness Day.

512 S. Nebraska Ave. • San Juan, Texas 78589-2649
Phone: (956)223-2200 • Fax: (956) 787-5978

PROCLAMATION

DECLARING THE FIRST FRIDAY IN JUNE TO BE NATIONAL GUN VIOLENCE AWARENESS DAY

This proclamation declares the first Friday in June to be National Gun Violence Awareness Day in the City of San Juan to honor and remember all victims and survivors of gun violence and to declare that we as a country must do more to end this public health crisis.

WHEREAS, every day, 125 people in the United States are killed by gun violence and more than 260 are shot and wounded, with an average of more than 19,000-gun homicides every year; and

WHEREAS, people in the United States are 26 times more likely to die by gun homicide than people in other high-income countries; and

WHEREAS, Texas has 4,630-gun deaths every year, with a rate of 14.9 deaths per 100,000 people, a crisis that costs the state $51.8 billion each year, of which a significant portion is borne by taxpayers. Texas has the 24th highest rate of gun deaths in the US; and

WHEREAS, gun homicides and assaults are concentrated in cities, with more than half of all gun homicides in the nation occurring in 42 cities; and

WHEREAS, cities across the nation, including in San Juan, Texas, are working to end the senseless violence with evidence-based solutions; and

WHEREAS, protecting public safety in the communities they serve is mayors' highest responsibility; and

WHEREAS, support for the Second Amendment rights of law-abiding citizens goes hand-in-hand with keeping guns away from those who are a danger to themselves or others; and

WHEREAS, mayors, councilmembers, and law enforcement officers — in partnership with local violence intervention activists and resources — know their communities best, are the most familiar with local criminal activity and how to address it, and are best positioned to understand how to keep their citizens safe; and

WHEREAS, gun violence prevention is more important than ever as we see gun violence continue to impact communities across the country; and

WHEREAS, in January 2013, Hadiya Pendleton was tragically shot and killed at age 15; and on June 6, 2025 to recognize the 28th birthday of Hadiya Pendleton (born: June 2, 1997), people across the United States will recognize National Gun Violence Awareness Day and wear orange in tribute to — (1) Hadiya Pendleton and other victims of gun violence; and (2) the loved ones of those victims; and

WHEREAS, the idea was inspired by a group of Hadiya's friends, who asked their classmates to commemorate her life by wearing orange; they chose this color because hunters wear orange to announce themselves to other hunters when out in the woods, and orange is a color that symbolizes the value of human life; and

WHEREAS, anyone can join this campaign by pledging to wear orange on June 6th, the first Friday in June 2025, to help raise awareness about gun violence; and

WHEREAS, by wearing orange on June 6, 2025 people across the United States will raise awareness about gun violence and honor the lives of gun violence victims and survivors; and

WHEREAS, we renew our commitment to reduce gun violence and pledge to do all we can to keep firearms out of the hands of people who should not have access to them and encourage responsible gun ownership to help keep our families and communities safe.

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it Resolved that I, Mario Garza, by the power vested in me as Mayor of the City of San Juan, along with Mayor Pro-Tem Marco "Markie" Villegas, Commissioner Ernesto "Neto" Guajardo, Commissioner Adina "Dina" Santillan and Commissioner Jesus "Jesse" Ramirez hereby declare the first Friday in June, June 6, 2025, to be National Gun Violence Awareness Day. I encourage all citizens to support their local communities' efforts to prevent the tragic effects of gun violence and to honor and value human lives.

AGENDA ITEM AND RECOMMENDATION SUMMARY
CITY COMMISSION REGULAR MEETING
MAY 27, 2025

Discussion and Possible Action, if any, on a Variance Request to Encroach 5 feet onto the Required 5-foot North Side Setback of Lot 30, Stewart Coves Phase 1 Subdivision, as Requested by Melden and Hunt, Inc. [Jorge J. Garcia, Director of Planning]

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS:

The applicant is requesting a variance to encroach 5 feet onto the required 5-foot north side setback of Lot 30, Stewart Coves Phase 1 Subdivision.

Being that the area to the North of the lot will never be built on due to being an existing irrigation district easement, we have no objection to this request.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends approval of the variance request.

Re: Stewart Coves Phase I Subdivision– Variance Request

Dear Mr. Garcia:

As engineers on record for Stewart Coves Phase I, we wanted to first off take the time to "Thank you" and City Council for reconsidering our variance request for Stuart Coves Phase I Subdivision on behalf of the owner, Rhodes Development.

For context, we began Stewart Coves in 2022 by petitioning the City for annexation; said annexation was approved at the City Commission meeting of January 10, 2023.

Throughout the subdivision process, we worked with Hidalgo County Irrigation District #2 (HCID #2) due to a 40 ft. easement traversing the subdivision. What was initially intended to be a continuation of the 40 ft. easement was increased to 50 ft. at the request of HCID #2.

In order to accomplish this, we found ourselves needing to reduce the width of Lot 30 by 5 ft.; Lot 30 was recorded with a final width of 41.42 ft. With this reduced width, the model homes for the subdivision no longer fit within the reduced building area.

In our case, a hardship is being created by having a 6 ft. setback on the north side of Lot 30, in addition to the 6 ft. setback on the south side; with these conditions, the buildable width on that lot is reduced to an overly restrictive 29 ft.

By reducing the northern setback to zero, the buildable width on Lot 30 increases to 35 ft. which is in line with the model homes planned for the subdivision. We don't believe a reduction of the northern setback to be contrary to the public interest since directly north of Lot 30 is the 50 ft. HCID #2 easement which will never have a building on it. As such, we're looking for relief from the side setback requirement on the north side so that a safe distance can be maintained by the homes on the south side.

Your consideration of this request is appreciated. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at (956) 381-0981.

Respectfully,

Mario A. Reyna, P.E.
President

Cc: Rhodes Development, Owner/Developer

SECTION 4. FIRST AID MEASURES

INHALATION: IF INHALED: Remove person to fresh air and keep comfortable for breathing. IF INHALED: Call a POISON CENTER OR LICENSED HEALTH CARE PROVIDER if you feel unwell. If breathing is difficult, oxygen should be administered by qualified personnel.

SKIN CONTACT: IF ON SKIN (or hair): Remove immediately all contaminated clothing. Rinse skin with water/shower. Wash contaminated clothing before reuse. See specific treatment for skin contact below in this Section Under "Notes to Physicians". GET MEDICAL ATTENTION IMMEDIATELY.

EYE CONTACT: IF IN EYES: Rinse cautiously with water for several minutes. Remove contact lenses, if present and easy to do. Continue rinsing. IF EXPOSED (eyes): Immediately call a POISON CENTER OR LICENSED HEALTH CARE PROVIDER. GET MEDICAL ATTENTION IMMEDIATELY.

INGESTION: IF SWALLOWED: Immediately call a POISON CENTER OR LICENSED HEALTH CARE PROVIDER. IF SWALLOWED: Rinse mouth. Do NOT induce vomiting. See additional information in "Notes to Physician" below in this Section. GET MEDICAL ATTENTION IMMEDIATELY.

Most Important Symptoms/Effects (Acute and Delayed):

Acute Symptoms/Effects:
Inhalation (Breathing): Breathing (Inhalation): Inhalation of airborne material may cause irritation, redness of upper and lower airways, coughing, laryngeal spasm and edema, shortness of breath, bronchio-constriction, and possible pulmonary edema. Severe and permanent scarring may occur. The pulmonary edema may develop several hours after a severe acute exposure.
Skin: Skin Corrosion. Skin exposure to gas or liquid may cause redness, irritation, burning sensation, swelling, blister formation, first, second, or third degree burns.
Eye: Serious Eye Damage. Exposure to eyes may cause irritation and burns to the eye-lids, conjunctivitis, corneal edema, and corneal burn. Significant and prolonged contact may cause damage to internal eye structures.
Ingestion (Swallowing): Ingestion: Exposure by ingestion may cause irritation, nausea, and vomiting. Oxidation may cause significant metabolic issues such as: methemogobinemia, hemolysis, and intravascular coagulation and renal failure.

Delayed Symptoms/Effects:
- Repeated and prolonged skin contact may cause a dermatitis

Protection of First-Aiders: Protect yourself by avoiding contact with this material. Avoid contact with skin and eyes. Do not ingest. Use personal protective equipment. Refer to Section 8 for specific personal protective equipment recommendations. At minimum, treating personnel should utilize PPE sufficient for prevention of bloodborne pathogen transmission.

Notes to Physician: Treat as a corrosive due to the pH of this material. For prolonged exposures and significant exposures, consider delayed injury to exposed tissues. There is no specific antidote. Treatment is supportive care. Follow normal parameters for airway, breathing, and circulation. Ingestion of even small amounts of solution should be closely monitored for methemoglobinemia, hemolysis, and glutathione depletion, followed by renal failure. This chemical acts similarly to its related compound chlorate, and produces a drug induced G6PD deficiency. Methylene blue has not been reported as effective. Consult the PubMed Case Report PMID 22996135 for the case description and treatment utilized. Chlorine dioxide vapors are emitted when this product contacts acids or chlorine. If these vapors are inhaled, monitor patient closely for delayed development of pulmonary edema which may occur up to 48-72 hours post-inhalation. Following ingestion, neutralization and use of activated charcoal is not indicated. In vitro studies have shown that activated charcoal does not adsorb chlorate/chlorite ions. The benefit of decontamination after ingestion is not certain and not recommended.

Interaction with Other Chemicals Which Enhance Toxicity: Mixing with ammonia, acids, detergents, or organic matter will release chlorinated compounds, which are irritating to eyes, lungs, and mucus membranes.

Medical Conditions Aggravated by Exposure: May aggravate preexisting conditions such as:. Eye disorders that decrease tear production or have reduced integrity. Skin disorders that compromise the integrity of the skin. Respiratory conditions including asthma and other breathing disorders. Ingestion may induce G6PD deficiency, hemolysis and renal failure. G6PD deficiency, hemoglobinopathies, renal compromise, and conditions causing hypoxia may be aggravated by ingestion of this material.

SECTION 5. FIRE-FIGHTING MEASURES

Fire Hazard: According to NFPA 400, this material is classified as a Class 2 Oxidizer. Class 2 Oxidizers will increase the burning rate of combustible materials with which they come in contact. In addition, they may cause spontaneous ignition when in contact with a combustible material. Avoid evaporation to dryness. Dried material can ignite upon contact with combustibles.

Explosive properties: This product may represent an explosion hazard if it contacts acids, chlorine, or organic materials (Refer to Sections 7 and 10).

Extinguishing Media: Use extinguishing agents appropriate for surrounding fire. Water is the only effective extinguisher of sodium chlorite.

Unsuitable Extinguishing Media: Water is the only effective extinguisher of sodium chlorite.

Unusual Hazards: Do not allow sodium chlorite solutions to evaporate to dryness; this product becomes a fire or explosion hazard if allowed to dry and can ignite in contact with combustible materials.

Fire Fighting: Wear NIOSH approved positive-pressure self-contained breathing apparatus. Consider evacuation of personnel located downwind. Keep unnecessary people away, isolate hazard area and deny entry. Move container from fire area if it can be done without risk. Cool containers with water spray until well after the fire is out. Flood with fine water spray. Avoid inhalation of material or combustion by-products. Stay upwind and keep out of low areas.

SECTION 6. ACCIDENTAL RELEASE MEASURES

Personal Precautions: Isolate hazard area and deny entry. Keep unnecessary and unprotected personnel from entering the area. Avoid contact with skin and eyes. If material is allowed to dry, DO NOT make airborne. DO NOT breathe dust. Wear appropriate personal protective equipment recommended in Section 8 of the SDS.

Personal Protective Equipment: Cleanup personnel must wear proper protective equipment. For Unknown Concentrations or exposures above IDLH (Immediately Dangerous to Life or Health) - Any supplied-air respirator with full facepiece and operated in a pressure-demand or other positive-pressure mode in combination with a separate escape supply. Any self-contained breathing apparatus with a full facepiece. See section 8 for information on personal protective equipment.

Emergency Procedures: Evacuate unnecessary personnel and eliminate all sources of ignition. For other than minor leaks, immediately implement predetermined emergency plan. Restrict access to the area until cleanup is complete. Stop the release if it can be done safely from a distance. Prevent material and runoff from entering sewers and waterways if it can be done safely well ahead of the release. Sodium chlorite may represent an explosion hazard if it contacts acids or chlorine. If such contact is possible, evacuation procedures must be placed into effect. Cleanup personnel must wear proper protective equipment. Notify all downstream water users of possible contamination.

Environmental Precautions: This material is harmful to aquatic life. This material is alkaline and may raise the pH of surface waters with low buffering capacity. Keep out of water supplies and sewers. Releases should be reported, if required, to appropriate agencies. See Section 12 for additional ecological information.

Methods and Materials for Containment, Confinement, and/or Abatement: Contain spill. Spilled materials may be absorbed using non-combustible and non-organic commercial absorbents. Dampen and scoop spilled material into clean, dedicated equipment. Every attempt should be made to avoid mixing spilled material with other chemicals or debris when cleaning up. Keep collected material damp and put into drums. Dried material can ignite upon contact with combustibles. Dispose of promptly. Dispose of in accordance with all applicable regulations.

Recovery: Liquid sodium chlorite solutions can be absorb in vermiculite, dry sand or earth and place in corrosive-resistant containers. Contact OxyChem Technical Service for confirmation of other types of absorbents before utilizing.
Neutralization: Due to the reactivity of sodium chlorite, neutralization for disposal purposes should be avoided whenever possible. Sodium chlorite neutralization procedures are available by contacting OxyChem Technical Service Department at 800-733-1165 option #1. Sodium chlorite neutralization procedures must be carried out ONLY by properly trained personnel wearing appropriate personal protective equipment and ONLY after thoroughly reviewing the neutralization procedures with manufacturer.
Final Disposal: Runoff may pollute waterways. If sodium chlorite is spilled or becomes a waste, it must be disposed of in accordance with local, state, and Federal regulations by a NPDES permitted out-fall or in a permitted hazardous waste treatment, storage, and disposal facility. For waste disposal, see section 13.

Additional Disaster Prevention Measures: Keep away from water supplies and sewers. Do not use combustible absorbents such as rags, sawdust, and other natural organic sorbents.

SECTION 7. HANDLING AND STORAGE

Handling:

Precautions for Safe Handling: Do not contaminate sodium chlorite with incompatible materials such as dirt, organic matter, oxidizers, reducing agents, chemicals, soap products, solvents, acids, paint products, or combustible materials. Do not store or transport sodium chlorite with incompatible materials. Contamination may start a chemical reaction with generation of heat, liberation of hazardous gases (chlorine dioxide a poisonous, explosive gas), and possible fire and explosion. Triple rinse empty containers thoroughly with water and dispose of in accordance with label instructions.

Technical measures/precautions: All instrumentation should be designed to prevent possible solution freezing in the instrument. Greaseless lubricants should be used in mechanical equipment where there is a potential for leaks or spills. Pumps should not be operated against closed valves as this may result in heating solution above it decomposition temperature.

Other precautions: This material is a more severe corrosive and oxidizer when dry. This material's pH and oxidative action contribute to its health and physical hazards.

Prevention of contact: Do not breathe dust or spray mist. Wash skin and contaminated clothing thoroughly after handling. Do not eat, drink or smoke when using this product. Use only outdoors or in a well-ventilated area. Wear protective gloves, protective clothing, eye, and face protection. Avoid contact with incompatible materials. Avoid release to the environment.

Storage:

Safe Storage Conditions: Store and handle in accordance with all current regulations and standards. (NFPA Oxidizer Class 2). Store in tightly closed, labeled containers away from combustible materials. Store in a cool, dry area. Store in a well-ventilated area. Store below 212°F (100°C). Avoid exposure to sunlight or ultraviolet light. Keep separated from incompatible substances (see below or Section 10 of the Safety Data Sheet). Sodium chlorite solutions exceeding 30% concentration have a greater potential to crystallize at ambient temperatures. Normally, these products should be diluted prior to storage. Where bulk storage of concentrated solutions is required, the tank must be placed in a temperature-controlled location to ensure that the product is maintained at a temperature above its crystallization point. Direct heat should not be applied to the storage tank.

Technical measures: All equipment purchased for handling and storing sodium chlorite solutions should be verified by the manufacturer or vendor to be suitable for use with sodium chlorite. Use appropriate containment to avoid environmental contamination. The storage area should not be exposed to direct sunlight or ultraviolet light. It should be fire resistant and have an effective sprinkler system with good ventilation. Do not allow solution to evaporate to dryness; this product becomes a fire or explosion hazard if allowed to dry and can ignite in contact with combustible materials. Storage conditions should comply with the requirements established by the National Fire Protection Association's NFPA 1 – Uniform Fire Code and/or NFPA 400 – Hazardous Materials Code and/or the International Code Council's (ICC) International Fire Code. Since both NFPA and ICC codes are used throughout the U.S., consult with local fire departments to determine which codes apply.

Incompatible Substances: Acids, reducing agents, combustible material, oxidizing agents, hypochlorite, organic solvents and compounds, garbage, dirt, organic materials, household products, chemicals, soap products, paint products, vinegar, beverages, oils, pine oil, dirty rags, sulfur-containing rubber, or any other foreign matter.

Packaging Material: Any containers used to store sodium chlorite solutions should be constructed of one of the following materials:
1. Fiberglass reinforced polyester with Hetron 922 resin or equivalent, color natural, with UV protection, and no internal insulation
2. High density polyethylene (HDPE)
3. Titanium.

Additional Information:
GHS: PHYSICAL HAZARDS:

SECTION 8. EXPOSURE CONTROLS / PERSONAL PROTECTION

REGULATORY EXPOSURE LIMIT(S):
This product does not contain any components that have regulatory occupational exposure limits (OEL's).

NON-REGULATORY EXPOSURE LIMIT(S):
This product does not contain any components that have advisory (non-regulatory) occupational exposure limits (OEL's); however, the manufacturer has established internal Recommended Exposure Level(s) [REL(s)] as noted below.
Recommended Exposure Limits (REL's) are non-regulatory occupational exposure limits that the manufacturer has established based on health effects data.

Component	OXY REL 8 hr TWA	OXY REL STEL	OXY REL Ceiling
Sodium Chlorite 7758-19-2 (24.25 - 25.75 %)	1 mg/m^3	Not applicable	Not applicable

ENGINEERING CONTROLS: Use only in well-ventilated areas. Provide local exhaust ventilation where vapors, mist or aerosols may be generated. Where sodium chlorite dust may be present, ventilation of the work area should be accomplished as necessary to maintain concentrations in air below 1 mg/m^3.

PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT:

Eye Protection: Wear chemical safety goggles. Where splashing or spraying is possible, use a face-shield in addition to chemical protective goggles. Provide an emergency eyewash fountain and quick drench shower in the immediate work area.

Skin and Body Protection: Use protective clothing chemically resistant to this material. Selection of specific items such as face shield, boots, apron, or full body suit will depend on the task. Remove contaminated clothing immediately, wash skin area with water, and launder clothing before reuse or dispose of properly. Clothing should be rinsed with water before disposal.

Hand Protection: Wear appropriate chemical resistant gloves. Consult a glove supplier for assistance in selecting an appropriate chemical resistant glove.

Protective Material Types: Neoprene

Respiratory Protection: A NIOSH approved full-face respirator equipped with N95 (dust, fume, mist) cartridges may be permissible when symptoms have been observed that are indicative of overexposure. If chlorine or chlorine dioxide is present, an acid gas cartridge is also required. An approved self-contained breathing apparatus operated in the pressure demand mode or an airline respirator with escape pack is required when an air purifying respirator is not adequate or for spills / emergencies of unknown concentrations. A respiratory protection program that meets 29 CFR 1910.134 must be followed whenever workplace conditions warrant use of a respirator.

HYGIENE MEASURES: Obtain proper training prior to use. An emergency eye wash fountain and quick drench shower should be provided in the immediate work area. Good housekeeping practices are important where sodium chlorite is used. All spills should be contained and immediately recovered or flushed with water into a chemical sewer or a segregated holding tank or pond provided for the specific purpose of neutralization. Sodium chlorite must never be flushed to sanitary sewer or other outlet connecting to waterways to uncontrolled runoff streams. Contact local and federal authorities for applicable regulations.

SECTION 11. TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION

POTENTIAL HEALTH EFFECTS:

ACUTE TOXICITY:

Eye contact: Causes serious eye damage. Eye exposures may cause burns to the eye lids, conjunctivitis, corneal edema, and corneal burn. May cause permanent eye damage including blindness. Significant and prolonged contact may cause damage to the internal eye structures.

Skin contact: Causes severe skin burns and eye damage. May cause redness, irritation, burning sensation, swelling, blister formation, first, second, or third degree burns. Acute dermal toxicity was dependent on the product concentration and its physical state. The most concentrated existing form (80%) induced severe cutaneous reactions and necrosis, which may have enhanced the irritant properties and systemic availability of the product leading to an LD50 of 134 mg/kg body weight. Conversely, the 31% solution induced at most mild skin irritation thus limiting the systemic passage of the product to the blood and leading to an LD50 higher than 2000 mg/kg body weight. Dermal absorption of a 30% liquid solution ranges approximately 5 - 10%.

Inhalation: Inhalation may cause coughing, irritation (possibly severe), redness of upper and lower airways, shortness of breath, chemical burns and possibly pulmonary edema. Pulmonary edema may develop several hours after a severe acute exposure.

Ingestion: Harmful if swallowed. Ingestion may cause irritation, nausea, and vomiting. Causes significant metabolic issues through oxidation. May induce methemoglobinemia, hemolysis, and intravascular coagulation and renal failure.

CHRONIC TOXICITY:

Sodium chlorite has produced hemolytic anemia in several animal species at concentrations of 100 mg/L or higher. In a subchronic study using rats, hematological alterations included decreased erthrocyte counts, hemoglobin levels, and hemacrit. Methemoglobin levels decreased in females, but increased in males. There is no evidence of kidney effects in humans; however, in animal studies with sodium chlorite, there is limited evidence of kidney effects. Repeated and prolonged skin contact may result in dermatitis.

SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF EXPOSURE:

Signs and symptoms of exposure vary, and are dependent on the route of exposure, degree of exposure, and duration of exposure.

Inhalation (Breathing): Breathing (Inhalation): Inhalation of airborne material may cause irritation, redness of upper and lower airways, coughing, laryngeal spasm and edema, shortness of breath, bronchio-constriction, and possible pulmonary edema. Severe and permanent scarring may occur. The pulmonary edema may develop several hours after a severe acute exposure.

Skin: Skin Corrosion. Skin exposure to gas or liquid may cause redness, irritation, burning sensation, swelling, blister formation, first, second, or third degree burns.

Eye: Serious Eye Damage. Exposure to eyes may cause irritation and burns to the eye-lids, conjunctivitis, corneal edema, and corneal burn. Significant and prolonged contact may cause damage to internal eye structures.

Ingestion (Swallowing): Ingestion: Exposure by ingestion may cause irritation, nausea, and vomiting. Oxidation may cause significant metabolic issues such as: methemogobinemia, hemolysis, and intravascular coagulation and renal failure.

Interaction with Other Chemicals Which Enhance Toxicity: Mixing with ammonia, acids, detergents, or organic matter will release chlorinated compounds, which are irritating to eyes, lungs, and mucus membranes.

FATE AND TRANSPORT:

PERSISTENCE: This material will eventually degrade to sodium chloride.

BIODEGRADATION: This material is inorganic and not subject to biodegradation; however, chlorite ions are reduced by some bacteria under anaerobic conditions. Sodium chlorite is a strong oxidizing agent and under proper reducing conditions is readily reduced to chloride, and to a lesser extent, chlorate. In strong acidic conditions, chlorite can change into chlorine dioxide.

BIOCONCENTRATION: This material will not bioaccumulate.

BIOACCUMULATIVE POTENTIAL: Bioaccumulation in aquatic species test does not need to be conducted as the substance has a low potential for bioaccumulation (a log Kow < 3) and is an inorganic substance.

MOBILITY IN SOIL: Not applicable.

SECTION 13. DISPOSAL CONSIDERATIONS

Waste from material:
Dispose in accordance with all applicable regulations. Do not put product, spilled product, or filled or partially filled containers into the trash or waste compactor. Contact with incompatible materials could cause a reaction and fire. Contact Technical Service to obtain neutralization instructions. Sodium chlorite is toxic to fish and aquatic organisms. Keep out of water supplies and sewers. If sodium chlorite is spilled or becomes a waste, it must be disposed of in accordance with local, state, and Federal regulations by a NPDES permitted out-fall or in a permitted hazardous waste treatment, storage, and disposal facility.

Container Management:
Containers are non-refillable. Do not reuse or refill containers. Offer for recycling if available. Offer for reconditioning if appropriate. Triple rinse or pressure rinse container promptly after emptying. Triple rinse containers 5-gallons or smaller as follows: Empty the remaining contents into application equipment or a mix tank and drain for 10 seconds after the flow begins to drip. Fill the container ¼ full with water and recap. Shake for 10 seconds. Pour rinsate into application equipment or a mix tank or store rinsate for later use or disposal. Drain for 10 seconds after the flow begins to drip. Repeat this procedure two more times. Triple rinse containers larger than 5 gallons as follows: Empty remaining contents into application equipment or a mix tank. Fill the container ¼ full with water. Replace and tighten closures. Tip container on its side and roll it back and forth, ensuring at least one complete revolution, for 30 seconds. Stand the container on its end and tip it back and forth several times. Empty the rinsate into application equipment or a mix tank or store rinsate for later use or disposal. Repeat this procedure two more times. Pressure rinse as follows: Empty the remaining contents into application equipment or a mix tank and continue to drain for 10 seconds after the flow begins to drip. Hold container upside down over application equipment or mix tank or collect rinsate for later use or disposal. Insert pressure rinsing nozzle in the side of the container, and rinse about 40 PSI for at least 30 seconds. Drain for 10 seconds, after the flow begins to drip. Container rinsate must be disposed of in compliance with applicable regulations.

Contaminated Material:
Dispose according to appropriate regulations.

Re: City of San Juan Police Building Expansion - CSP No. 25-008-05-01

To Whom It May Concern,

The Trevino Group, Inc. is excited to submit our qualifications for the City of San Juan Police Department Building Expansion project. With over 49 years of experience in construction and a strong track record of delivering high-quality, schedule-driven projects across Texas, we are confident in our ability to be your trusted partner for this transformative endeavor.

We understand this important project involves a major expansion, featuring a new 42,400-square-foot addition and renovations to the existing facility at 301 Ridge Road. Our experienced team is fully prepared to execute the phased construction as outlined—starting with Phase 1: new construction of key components including the municipal court, holding facility, administrative offices, lockers, restrooms, storage areas, vehicle processing, and gym, along with the enabling plan to add a temporary second exit. Upon substantial completion of Phase 1 within 360 days, we will transition smoothly into Phase 2: renovation of the existing building, enhancing the main entrance, restrooms, and redistribution of key spaces, achieving substantial completion within 240 days.

Our team's expertise in secure facility construction is proven. We successfully delivered the Veterans Affairs Temple project—transforming Administrative Building 47 into a fully functional Police Station within an active federal campus, while upgrading critical security systems and infrastructure. Similarly, our work on the Harris County 1307 Baker Street Jail Renovation showcased our ability to manage highly sensitive environments, requiring meticulous phasing, close coordination with law enforcement, and strict adherence to all safety and security protocols. These experiences demonstrate our capability to meet technical demands while maintaining project momentum in active, secure settings.

At The Trevino Group, we believe that every project is an opportunity to build lasting relationships through integrity, collaboration, and a relentless commitment to excellence. We are eager for the opportunity to partner with the City of San Juan in delivering a modern, functional, and secure police facility that will serve your community with pride for years to come.

Sincerely,

Jeffery K. Ryall, CPM, OSHS

The Michael E. DeBakey Veterans Affairs Medical Administration Building project involved the ground-up construction of a new, 18,000-square-foot, two-story facility designed to enhance administrative and clinical operations within the medical campus. As the General Contractor, The Trevino Group led the project from site preparation to final completion, ensuring that every phase adhered to VA standards, healthcare regulations, and strict safety protocols.

This complex build-out required specialized labor and expert supervision to complete a wide range of architectural, mechanical, structural, civil, electrical, plumbing, and fire protection work. The scope also included demolition of select existing structures to accommodate the new facility. Our team coordinated closely with VA officials, medical staff, and engineers to ensure a seamless integration of the new space with the existing infrastructure.

The facility was designed to support multiple functions, featuring administrative offices, clinical shell space, and laboratory areas, all built to accommodate future expansion and adaptability. The project also included the relocation and reconfiguration of existing MEP systems.

Early coordination with suppliers and subcontractors further ensures material and labor readiness to meet project milestones and support early or on-time completion.

During construction, TTG maintains strict quality control protocols, built on disciplined vendor management and clear performance expectations. We select only prequalified subcontractors and suppliers who demonstrate the highest standards of reliability, safety, and compliance. All building components—materials, systems, and installed equipment—are sourced from vetted manufacturers known for performance durability, code compliance, and warranty support. Our procurement strategy ensures seamless integration of systems and long-term operational value for our clients.

Our on-site field operations are led by seasoned superintendents and project managers who maintain full visibility over daily progress, enforce safety and quality standards, and ensure alignment with all project specifications. We conduct routine inspections, testing, and documentation using detailed quality checklists to verify compliance and craftsmanship. PROJECT QUALITY STATEMENT

The purpose of The Trevino Group's (TTG) Quality Control (QC) Plan is to implement the necessary project specific activities to ensure the Owner receives the highest quality of construction project consistent with the contract requirements. We do this by ensuring that all phases of the project meet or exceed the owner's requirements and follows our mission statement and core values.

The QC Plan works to ensure quality in construction by promoting a constant awareness of the quality standards through active participation by all team members; training as necessary to ensure positive improvements; preventive measures undertaken prior to the start of each feature of work; formal quality inspections; and conveying in a direct and positive way the importance of building quality the first time.

QUALITY AWARENESS

Quality Awareness and Training emphasizes TTG's commitment to the installation of quality materials and workmanship. The goal is to develop a Total Quality working environment with a continuing focus on the planning, production and installation of error-free work. The plan encompasses the entire project experience from preconstruction through project closeout.

Specific goals are to:

- Emphasize the importance of quality work.
- Stress the concept that quality is best achieved during initial fabrication and/or installation of the work.
- Enhance the exchange of technical and other information pertaining to quality throughout the entire project organization.
- Eliminate non-compliant work requiring rework or replacement.
- Seek the involvement and cooperation from all levels of the project team.

All major subcontractors and suppliers are involved with the planning and organization of submittals. TTG stresses that timely, complete and accurate submittals are the first step in producing a quality project. All preparatory inspection meetings, initial inspections and follow up inspections emphasize quality. Monthly/ Weekly tool-box meetings are held to address specific quality training.

Quality awareness and training are part of weekly subcontractor coordination meetings. Non-conforming items are reviewed including methods and procedures to prevent reoccurrence of similar deficiencies. Quality control of current work activities is reviewed, and participants are encouraged to provide input for improving quality on the jobsites.

CONTRACTOR QUALITY CONTROL PLAN

TTG's Quality Control (QC) Plan fully complies with all contractual requirements. The quality standards for this project are embodied in the specifications, drawings, reference documents, local and national building codes, as well as established industry standards. The QC Plan consists of the organization, inspections, testing, meetings, reporting and submittals (including certifications and other documentation) necessary to provide materials, equipment, workmanship, fabrication, construction, and operations which comply with the quality standards of this project. This QC Plan applies to all aspects of the work both on-site and off-site. Its primary focus is on the early identification and resolution of potential problems before they impact the project. The QC Plan includes specific preventive measures and formal inspections before the start of each work activity. Preventive measures begin at the onset of the project and continue through all phases. They include design reviews, identification of standards, mockups, requests for information, submittals, document control, pre-construction meetings, and other trade specific measures.

The TTG QC Plan establishes the specifics for this project including personnel, responsibilities, authority levels, activities, schedules, reports and related procedures.

A. CQC ORGANIZATION, RESPONSIBILITIES AND AUTHORITY

TTG's Quality Control organization for this project is depicted in the Project Organization Chart (Appendix A). The primary QC organization consists of the focused Project Executive, Project Manager, Superintendent, Project Engineer and Safety Manager. Respective subcontractor Project Managers, Superintendents and Trade Foremen supplement this team. Although all members of the project team will be responsible for providing Quality Control in their everyday activities, the Project Engineer will have overall responsibility for ensuring implementation of the QC Plan throughout every aspect of the project. The Project Engineer will be on-site full-time and will focus on managing and executing the QC Plan. The Project Engineer will have day-to-day responsibility for on-site administration of the plan including submittal review, phased inspections, testing, and overall coordination of all QC activities. The Project Engineer will report to the Project Superintendent and Project Manager but will have the authority and responsibility to report directly to Senior Management regarding any issue of consequence to the quality of the work. The Project Engineer will also have the authority to ensure contract compliance; stop/reject work not in compliance; order correction of defective work; and direct all QC personnel, testing agencies, and other consultants.

The Safety Engineer will support the Project Superintendent to ensure that appropriate safety measures are being implemented for each phase of the work per our site-specific Safety Plan. Subcontractor foreman, testing laboratories, consultants, and other staff members as necessary will supplement our on-site organization. Subcontractor Foreman/Supervisors and Supplemental QC Personnel

Subcontractor supervisors have the same QC duties and responsibilities to TTG, regarding their respective trade work, as TTG has to the owner within the prime contract. It is the responsibility of subcontractor supervisory personnel to assist the Project Engineer in the QC Plan.

B. DOCUMENT CONTROL

Ensuring all parties have the most current documentation, including the most current configuration of the drawings and specifications, is a critical starting point for building in quality. Accordingly, a Project Directory is maintained by the Project Engineer to ensure that each subcontractor and vendor has received current drawings and specifications. A Plan Revision Log is maintained to reflect the current revision level of each drawing. These logs are maintained in our project database management system, Project Sight. This allows effective management of the process through the reporting capabilities of this system. All plans and specifications distributed to subcontractors and vendors are sent with a transmittal showing the drawing numbers and current revision dates. Upon receipt, the Project Engineer, or a designated assistant, posts all revisions on the field set of drawings and specifications to ensure the most current information is being disseminated.

The field set of drawings and specifications will contain all voided sheets with the current plan on top of the voided sheet. The word VOID is denoted on the voided sheets in such a way there is no question that the sheet is voided. Additionally, the bottom right-hand corner of the voided sheet is folded under so that the plan number appears on the back side. Plan revisions associated with Requests for Information, Architect Supplemental Instructions, and Proposed Changes, and similar documents and actual field conditions are posted on the office set of documents. Revisions are posted accurately in red ink and indicate the initiating document, and the date posted. Sufficient detail is posted so the changes can be understood without referring to the initiating document. The Project Engineer will conduct periodic inspections of the field set of documents to ensure they are being kept up to date by all trades. The field set of documents are maintained throughout the duration of the project and are the basis for the “Record Set” of documents provided at project completion.

All correspondence and project related issues are also tracked using the project database management system. They are tracked by specification division and subject matter. Current resolution status is maintained in the database. Through the database reporting functions, the Project Engineer and project team can use this as an effective follow-up tool to manage timely resolution of issues.

C. SUBMITTAL CONTROL

The Project Engineer is responsible for managing and controlling the submittal review process. The submittal control procedures have been established to assure that equipment and materials built into the project conform to contract requirements. Submittals are reviewed with reasonable promptness and in a sequence as to cause no delay in the work, the work of the Owner, or third-party contractors. In addition to compliance with contract requirements, all submittals are checked for accurate dimensions and coordination with other trades prior to submission. Any variations from the contract documents are clearly indicated in the submission. Any work noted "by others" is reviewed to determine the responsible party before returning the submittal to the subcontractor. TTG understands we are not relieved of the responsibility for deviations unless we have specifically identified such deviations at the time of submission and the approving authority has acknowledged and accepted the noted deviations.

The primary tool for managing the submittal control process is the Submittal Log. The submittal register lists all submittals as identified in the specifications by paragraph and submittal type (shop drawing, product data, certificates, test data, close out requirements, warranties, owner instructions, O & M data, extra materials, etc.) along with a schedule showing planned submission dates. Each submittal is categorized by type as "For Approval," "For Information Only," or "Closeout." The Submittal Register is included in (Appendix C).

As the subcontracts and purchase orders are awarded, the individual subcontractor / supplier is sent a contract or other notification outlining their specific submittal requirements including a list of items to be submitted, number of copies, and any other administrative requirements set forth in the specifications, along with a timetable for submission. Submittal suspense dates are scheduled in accordance with The Trevino Group's project schedule. The Project Engineer, Sr. Project Engineer, and Project Manager monitor the status of submittals to ensure satisfactory progress. If a submittal becomes delinquent, it is addressed by verbal contact with the responsible party followed by written correspondence and other actions necessary to avoid impact to the project.

The Submittal Log is a continuous and ongoing update of the submittal register. It is maintained on our project database management system. This allows the Project Manager to effectively manage the process by using the various reporting functions of the database management system. The status of submittals is updated in the database as they are received and processed. The submittal log is kept current throughout the project and a final record copy is provided to the Owner at project completion.

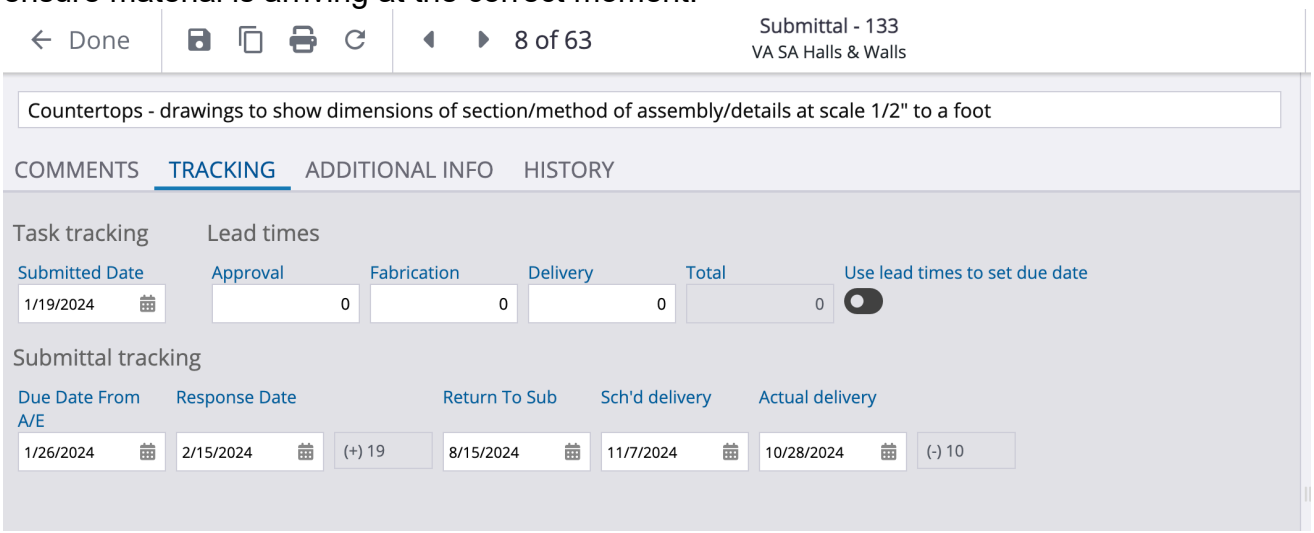
D. PROCUREMENT

After submittals have been approved, then procurement begins. The Project Manager, Superintendent, and Project Engineer confirm when material should arrive to the project site per the project schedule. Inside of Project Sight, the project team inputs critical dates to ensure material is arriving at the correct moment.



TTG will stay in constant communication with subcontractors and suppliers to update this information on a weekly basis. The Project Engineer will share with the project team during the different weekly meetings. During the OAC meeting, the Project Engineer will include the Procurement Log (Appendix D) to work in tandem with the Submittal Log allowing for better tracking of material.

E. TESTING

All testing and inspection are conducted in accordance with the specifications and as required to ensure contract compliance. As part of the QC Plan, a Testing Matrix is included in (Appendix E). The Testing Matrix identifies each test / inspection required by type and specification paragraph as related to each Critical Identified Tasks. It will also indicate the frequency of each test/inspection and the person or the certified independent testing agency responsible for performing each test/inspection. The Test Matrix is maintained by the Project Engineer and is an effectively tool to allow timely coordination, scheduling, and confirmation of required testing during the execution of the project. It is used by the Project Engineer to document the date/time, location, and type of test performed. Upon receipt of the written certified test report from the testing agency, the Project Engineer records the results in the Testing Matrix. The designated authority will be notified of any non-conforming test results within 24 hours of receipt of the information. Any non-conforming results are addressed prior to further work progressing relative to the non-conformance. After corrective actions are taken, re-testing is performed to confirm satisfactory results have been achieved. Independent testing laboratory qualification data is included under (Appendix F).

E. PHASED INSPECTION & DEFICIENCY CORRECTION

TTG will utilize a three-phased QC inspection process. This process incorporates the Preparatory, Initial and Follow-Up control phases. These three phases are scheduled, conducted, and documented by the Project Engineer in conjunction with the Superintendent and Trade Foreman. Each distinct trade activity / task that requires separate control procedures will be assigned as a Critical Identified Tasks. The Critical Identified Tasks are included in (Appendix G).

Preparatory Phase: For each Definable Feature of Work, the Project Engineer conducts a Preparatory Phase Meeting / Inspection at least 24 hours prior to the start of work. A minimum of 72-hour notice will be given to allow attendance by all appropriate parties. The meeting will also include respective trade supervisory personnel.

During this meeting, a review is conducted of the plans and specifications; material and equipment submittals are verified; material certifications are confirmed; the test matrix is reviewed and arrangements for testing are confirmed. An inspection of the work area is conducted to verify that all preceding work has been completed and accepted. Materials and equipment are inspected to verify compliance with approved submittals and that enough are available. The Safety Plan is reviewed and a Job Hazard Analysis conducted to ensure that requisite safety measures are understood and in place and the appropriate Material Data Safety Sheets are on-site. Lastly, the construction methodology is reviewed from a QC perspective to identify and resolve potential problems before work begins. The Project Engineer documents the meeting in the Daily Report and prepares meeting minutes.

Any issues encountered are specifically documented and tracked for timely resolution. The preparatory meeting will be repeated should safety become an issue, the quality of work proves to be unacceptable, or should a Critical Identified Task be resumed after a substantial period of inactivity.

Initial Phase: The Project Engineer conducts an initial inspection, or first work review, with the respective trade crew and foremen as a specific Critical Identified Task is starting for the first time. The purpose of this inspection is to observe the initial segment of work to ensure that it complies with all contract requirements. Essentially, this inspection establishes the quality of workmanship required; resolves any conflicts; reviews the Safety Plan to ensure appropriate measures are being implemented; and ensures that proper testing is being performed. The Superintendent will document the results of this inspection in the Daily Report. Any issues encountered are documented and tracked for timely resolution.

Follow-Up/Completion Phase: This inspection is performed by the Project Engineer on a periodic basis to ensure continued contract compliance for a specific Critical Identified Task until the work is complete. The quality of the workmanship is checked to ensure that it is being maintained as established in the preparatory and initial inspections. Testing is monitored and reviewed to ensure that it is being properly performed and satisfactory results obtained. Any re-work items are checked to ensure that they are being corrected. As with the previous inspections, the Superintendent will document the results in the Daily Report. Any issues encountered are documented and tracked for timely resolution.

Material Receiving and Storage

Permanent construction materials received on-site are received by the responsible subcontractor, QC representative or Superintendent and reviewed for compliance with the approved submittals by the Project Engineer or designated QC representative. Materials stored on the project site or off-site are controlled to the extent required to ensure identity and maintain condition for future incorporation into the work. Materials or equipment requiring temperature and/or humidity control are stored in an adequate enclosure. If equipment is stored on-site for an extended period prior to installation, or if it is installed and not energized for an extended period, O&M procedures for storage and protection (grease bearings, rotate fans, etc.) are provided in accordance with manufacturer recommendations.

In-Wall and Above Ceiling Inspections

In-wall and above ceiling inspections are conducted and signed-off by the Superintendent, or designated Project Engineer, and all trade QC representatives prior to wall closures or finished ceiling installation. The purpose of the in-wall and above ceiling inspections are to force total completion of the work in the correct sequence; to avoid re-entering walls and ceilings preventing damage to finished work; and to reveal operational concerns during the construction process. A similar inspection process is used for concrete pours. Forms used to conduct these inspections are contained in (Appendix I)

F. REPORTING

All forms / reports will be submitted per the contract documents. The following is a description of the reports we anticipate will be required on this project:

Daily Report

The primary vehicle for reporting QC activities and results is the Daily Report. A copy of our standard Daily Report and Flow Chart is included in (Appendix H). This report provides documentation for all tests and inspections performed to ensure contract compliance. This report is completed by the Superintendent and turned in per the Owner's request. Each calendar day throughout the project duration will be accounted for in the report. As a minimum, the following information is included with each report:

- Day, date and report number
- Weather conditions, including maximum and minimum temperatures

- Site conditions
- List of Contractor and Subcontractor personnel on site by trade and employer
- List of construction equipment on-site
- Description of work performed, listed by Critical Identified Tasks
- List of Preparatory, Initial, and Follow Up inspections conducted
- Specific details of any safety actions taken and inspections conducted
- List of major materials and equipment deliveries
- Specific results for phases of control for off-site work
- List of identified action items not corrected by close of business
- List corrected action items with a description of corrective actions
- Other pertinent QC related information

Quality Checklists

Checklists are conducted each day to ensure tasks are being completed correctly and linked to the Daily Report. Tests and inspections identified in the Test Matrix are performed daily as required and listed under Follow-up Inspections by the Project Engineer. An example is provided in (Appendix I), but a check will be done for each major task that is completed during the project.

Open Issues

The Project Manager, Superintendent, and Project Engineer will maintain a rolling Issues List. The list contains all items noted as incomplete, missing, or requiring corrective action. Each item will include the date discovered, point of contact for resolution, action required, and date completed. Items will remain open until actions are implemented, verified as satisfactory, and signed off by the Project Manager. Primary input is from the three-phased inspection process with additional input coming from the Owner, Architect Field Reports, contractor observations, testing agency reports, above ceiling and wall close-up inspections, and other QC efforts. The list serves as the primary tool to manage the noted issues requiring follow-up in normal day-to-day QC activities and helps to reduce the final completion lists. A copy of the current Open Issues List is distributed to Subcontractors weekly.

G. PROJECT CLOSE OUT

Project close out begins during the preconstruction phase. The project specifications are reviewed for warranties, record documents, O&M manuals, owner training, extra materials, and similar close out requirements. These items are noted as “close out” submittals in the Submittal Register. Each requirement is identified by specification paragraph and submittal type along with a schedule of planned submission dates. Close out requirements are communicated to subcontractors and suppliers during the preconstruction meeting and managed during the project when full staffing is available to efficiently gather and organize the close out documents. The Project Engineer monitors the status of close out submittals and takes the actions necessary to assure timely completion and submission.

Completion Inspections

Well in advance of project completion, detailed final inspection procedures are jointly developed with the Architect and Owner to ensure timely completion and turnover of the project. This inspection process typically includes a pre-inspection by TTG, followed by a joint inspection including the Architect and Owner. The final inspections will be phased by floor and/or building area. Anticipated punch list activities are included in TTG’s project schedule.

Warranty Period

The warranty work process is jointly developed and reviewed with the Owner’s representative that will be responsible for the care and operations of the project. A subcontractor / supplier list, including points of contact, phone numbers, addresses and a brief description of the work performed, is provided with the turnover of the close out documents. TTG’s Project Manager will be in regular contact to assure that warranty issues are resolved to the Owner’s satisfaction. Approximately one month prior to the end of the warranty period, a warranty inspection will be performed and any remaining issues corrected. This ensures that at the end of the warranty period the project will be “deficiency free.”

RESOLUTION Nick Lavoie on 12/18/2024 02:04 PM

It was determined that when the sink was disconnected the valves were turned off and not capped or plugged. The valve did not hold and leaked over the entire weekend causing a massive pooling of water in the construction space and adjacent corridor break room janitors closet and restrooms. The sheetrock in the employee break room will have to be replaced. It is the plumbing subcontractor's responsibility to ensure all demoed lines are capped or plugged in case of a valve failing.

To Whom it may concern:

Please accept this letter of reference for Mr. Shawn Gerlach and Gerlach Construction, LLC dba WIL-CON of Edinburg, Texas.

The City has been working with Mr. Gerlach and his company with the construction of our New Public Safety Building which includes the offices for the Police Department, Fire Administration, Municipal Court and Jail. We have received the personal attention of his staff on this project and his crews and sub-contractors perform in a professional manner.

This project is part of a larger Public Safety Complex involving two additional contractors for separate scopes of work. The Gerlach team has provided leadership beyond their purview to the project leading to open communication between all parties to the project. Gerlach's office support and project management have maintained efficient dialogue with the owners, architect and their sub-contractors to anticipate coordination to deliver the project ahead of schedule and on budget.

Gerlach Construction represents the construction industry in a professional and exemplary manner to which I would recommend for work.

Regards,

Omar Rodriguez,

RE: Gerlach Builders

Gerlach Builders has been the prime contractor on three projects that I have been involved in the last 3 years in the City of Edinburg. The project that is complete was performed on time. The change orders were mostly City initiated for additional work with reasonable fees. Monthly progress meetings created the proactive approach to any construction issues. The contractor is cooperative and professional in addressing construction issues, such as design conflicts, quality of work, and in resolving other related construction issues. In addition, the final product has quality and is aesthetically pleasing.

Currently, Gerlach Builders has 2 more projects in construction. Substantial completion is expected by April 2023 and May 2024, respectively. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me at (956) 388-8211 at your earliest convenience.

To Whom it may concern,

On behalf of the Edinburg CISD it is with pleasure that I take this opportunity to express our thoughts and appreciation for the remarkable job performed by Williamson Construction and team of subcontractors for the projects with our School District.

Williamsons' attention to detail and on-site management, headed by the project managers has proven how a well-organized project can come to life when the Owner, Architect and Contractor share a common goal to achieve a successful project. They maintained a clean and safe job site environment, responded diligently when additional information was requested, and were always willing to cooperate with campus personnel during the warranty period. We commend them for their professionalism, efficiency, and thoroughness.

Their teams of subcontractor's quality of work and work ethic have been more than satisfactory to our district and have handled every problem in a dignified and professional manner. They will be welcome in our district should the opportunity for another project arise.

Thank you, once again for a job well done and please don't hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Robert Estrada, AIA
District Architect for Facilities & Construction

Re: Wil-Con Construction

To Whom It May Concern:

During the past 13 years, I have had the privilege to work with Wil-Con on various construction projects. These projects range from Competitive Sealed Proposals(CSP) to Construction Manager at Risk(CMAR). These jobs have also ranged from 1 to well over 10 million dollars. Every project that I have worked on with the staff, have exceeded my expectations. Wil-Con embodies every major component you want in a contractor.

Wil-Con has thrived in working side by side with the owner and design team to ensure that problems out on the construction field are handled with the owner's priorities in mind. Further, they have been constantly committed to ensure that projects have no change orders. If there were change orders on their projects, it was usually because the owner had requested a change to the drawings or specifications. In addition, Wil-Con has been delivering projects for me on or before their contractual obligation date for well over a decade.

Wil-Con has also had tremendous impact at communities where they work. They have ensured to hire as many local subcontractors as possible. Further, Wil-Con has a long track record of ensuring that they are at the front of the line for volunteering scholarships and grants for students. For the reasons noted above and others I vehemently express my recommendation for Wil-Con.

To Whom it may concern,

On behalf of the Edinburg CISD it is with pleasure that I take this opportunity to express our thoughts and appreciation for the remarkable job performed by Williamson Construction and team of subcontractors for the projects with our School District.

Williamsons' attention to detail and on-site management, headed by the project managers has proven how a well-organized project can come to life when the Owner, Architect and Contractor share a common goal to achieve a successful project. They maintained a clean and safe job site environment, responded diligently when additional information was requested, and were always willing to cooperate with campus personnel during the warranty period. We commend them for their professionalism, efficiency, and thoroughness.

Their teams of subcontractor's quality of work and work ethic have been more than satisfactory to our district and have handled every problem in a dignified and professional manner. They will be welcome in our district should the opportunity for another project arise.

Thank you, once again for a job well done and please don't hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Robert Estrada, AIA
District Architect for Facilities & Construction

Re: Wil-Con Construction

To Whom It May Concern:

During the past 13 years, I have had the privilege to work with Wil-Con on various construction projects. These projects range from Competitive Sealed Proposals(CSP) to Construction Manager at Risk(CMAR). These jobs have also ranged from 1 to well over 10 million dollars. Every project that I have worked on with the staff, have exceeded my expectations. Wil-Con embodies every major component you want in a contractor.

Wil-Con has thrived in working side by side with the owner and design team to ensure that problems out on the construction field are handled with the owner's priorities in mind. Further, they have been constantly committed to ensure that projects have no change orders. If there were change orders on their projects, it was usually because the owner had requested a change to the drawings or specifications. In addition, Wil-Con has been delivering projects for me on or before their contractual obligation date for well over a decade.

Wil-Con has also had tremendous impact at communities where they work. They have ensured to hire as many local subcontractors as possible. Further, Wil-Con has a long track record of ensuring that they are at the front of the line for volunteering scholarships and grants for students. For the reasons noted above and others I vehemently express my recommendation for Wil-Con.

To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Letter of Reference

I am pleased to write this letter of reference for Wil-Con Construction. PMSI has, and continues to work with the Wil-Con team on several projects and with positive results.

Wil-Con was professional, ethical and quality focused, all the while being very cost effective with a "can-do" attitude throughout the entire duration of the projects. Some of the projects had aggressive schedules and the team remained focused on getting the projects done ahead of schedule and within budget. The teamwork was outstanding.

PMSI has been very satisfied with the performance of Wil-Con and we look forward to the opportunity to work with them on future projects.

Sincerely,

Independent Auditor's Report

July 12, 2024

Mr. Jesus J. Jimenez
Managing Member
Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC
dba International Consulting Engineers
Corpus Christi, Texas

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC (a Texas Limited Liability Company), which comprise the balance sheet as of December 31, 2023, and the related statements of income, member's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC as of December 31, 2023, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements, including omissions, are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control–related matters that we identified during the audit.

Report on Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The supplementary schedules I, II, III and IV are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Jimenez Engineering Solutions, LLC dba International Consulting Engineers (the Company) is a limited liability company primarily engaged in providing civil, structural and industrial engineering services as well as construction management services from offices in Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Houston and Edinburg, Texas. Work is performed as service work, cost-plus-fee or fixed price contracts. Substantially all of the Company's customers are geographically concentrated in South Texas.

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements of the Company have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted (GAAP) in the United States of America.

Revenue from engineering contracts is recognized when performance obligations under the related contract terms have been fulfilled. Related expenses are recognized when incurred.

Contract revenues are recognized on the percentage-of-completion method, measured by the percentage of cost incurred to date to estimated total cost for each contract (cost-to-cost method). That method is used because management considers total cost to be the best available measure of progress on the contract. Because of inherent uncertainties in estimating costs, it is at least reasonably possible that the estimates used will change within the near term.

Construction contract costs include all direct material, labor and subcontract costs, and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, tools, and repairs. Costs of construction contracts are charged to earnings on the percentage-of-completion method used to recognize revenues. Selling, general, and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability may result in revisions to costs and income, which are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined. Changes in estimated job profitability resulting from job performance, job conditions, contract penalty provisions, claims, change orders, and settlements are accounted for as changes in estimates in the current period.

The asset, "Revenues Earned in Excess of Billings", represents contract revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed on uncompleted contracts. The liability, "Billings in Excess of Revenues Earned", represents billings in excess of contract revenues recognized on uncompleted contracts.

Cash & Cash Equivalents

Cash consists of funds readily available in bank accounts and other short term liquid accounts. Funds must be available in 90 days or less to be classified as a cash equivalent.

Accounts Receivable

The carrying amount of accounts receivable is reduced by an allowance for doubtful accounts that reflects management's best estimate of the amounts that may not be collected.

Probable uncollectible amounts are reflected through a charge to earnings and a credit to the allowance for doubtful accounts. Balances deemed uncollectible are written off.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred. Renewals and betterments are capitalized. As assets are sold or are otherwise disposed of, the asset and the related accumulated depreciation are removed, and the gain or loss is recognized.

For financial statement reporting purposes, depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over useful lives as follows:

Machinery and Equipment	7-10 years
Vehicles	5 years
Mobile Offices	10 years
Land Improvements	10 years
Computer Equipment	5 years
Buildings	40 years

Cost of computer software is amortized on a straight-line basis over three years.

Investment in Joint Venture

A 51% investment in a joint venture with another engineering firm is accounted for using the equity method.

Compensated Absences

Employees of the Company are entitled to paid vacation and paid sick days depending on job classification, length of service, and other factors. It is not practicable for the Company to estimate the amount of compensation for future absences. Accordingly, no liability for compensated absences has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements. The Company's policy is to recognize the costs of compensated absences when actually paid to employees.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected S Corporation status. Under S Corporation status, earnings and losses will be included in the personal income tax of the sole member. Therefore, no income tax provision is recorded by the Company. The Company files a state franchise tax return in Texas.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and totaled $48,446 and $26,928 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing these financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

Date of Management's Review

Subsequent events have been evaluated through July 12, 2024, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend NM Construction Company services with any prospective clients. I have had the pleasure of working directly with their staff on our current project for the City of San Juan Fire Station #1. The scope of work for this project was a completely new construction from the ground up for future occupancy of fire administration and fire suppression personnel.

NM Construction has illustrated their attention to detail, quality and safety on a number of occasions. It is the policy of the company to strive for the highest safety standards. Working safely requires a serious commitment by everyone within the organization including their subcontractors. NM Construction Company has met and exceeded our safety and code compliance.

Scheduling within the construction industry is typically a task in itself, and NM Construction has been able to effectively meet project schedule requirements. Their project superintendent on site has been able to quickly adapt to schedule changes from subcontractors in order to keep his schedule on time and aligned with the overall project schedule. In addition, NM Construction Company has been exceptionally accommodating when dealing with unforeseen change orders.

Please consider NM Construction Company for your construction service needs. I highly recommend them and look forward to working with them on any other future City of San Juan projects.

Sincerely,

Tirso Garza, Fire Chief

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation on behalf of NM Contracting LLC. In the last 5 years, the city has undergone an aggressive physical transformation to optimize its usage and have an updated visual appeal. A key aspect of this endeavor was the modernization of our city hall. It was the first building to be addressed and the remodel was not only constructed under budget, but also ahead of schedule. NM Contracting provided exceptional management and workmanship throughout the project. They are diligent and have a great "customer comes first" mentality and it definitely showed.

As Mayor, I interact with many vendors of all types and capabilities, but I can honestly say that it was a pleasure to work with NM Contracting LLC. On behalf of the City of Pharr we whole hearty recommend without reservation NM Contracting LLC for any project.

Please feel free to contact me personally if you have any questions or need additional information.

Thank you,

Mayor Ambrosio "Amos" Hernandez

Quality Control Program

Fulfilling client contract expectations is a primary objective of the NMC Quality System. To ensure that client expectations will be fulfilled, NMC clearly defines the requirements for each contract before it is approved.

The Project Manager ensures that the information provided in the contract clearly defines client expectations and that the necessary details are provided to set requirements for construction. NMC personnel and subcontractors and suppliers are accountable for compliance to standards-based written specifications.

To achieve expectations reliably and consistently, specifications are clearly spelled out, not only for results but also for processes. Specifications apply to materials, work steps, qualified personnel and subcontractors and suppliers, safe work guidelines, and environmental work conditions.

Standards ensure that results are specified rather than left to discretionary practices.

Methods Used to Maintain Quality Control

Prior to the commencement of work, the Project Manager holds a meeting to discuss and coordinate how project work will be performed and controlled. Key personnel from NMC, subcontractors and suppliers meet to review expectations for project quality results as well as quality assurance and quality control policies and procedures including:

- Key requirements of the project
- Required quality inspections and testing
- The project submittal schedule
- Quality policies and heightened awareness of critical quality requirements
- Methods of communications and contact information
- Location of project documents and records

Weekly Quality Planning & Coordination Meetings

The superintendent conducts weekly/bi-weekly meetings with key company, subcontractor and supplier personnel responsible for carrying out, supervising or inspecting the work. During the meeting, the Superintendent facilitates coordination among the participants, communication among the participants, and reinforces heightened awareness for critical requirements. The Superintendent maintains a record of the meeting along with pertinent notes/comments of the meeting event on the Quality Control Report on our construction software system.

Observations & Corrective Actions

Should a nonconformance be identified by an inspection there is a systematic method to control the item, correct it, and ensure that project quality is not adversely impacted by the event.

When the Quality Manager, Superintendent, inspector, or client identifies a nonconformance or an observation, the item is quickly and clearly marked by tape, tag, or other easily observable signal to prevent inadvertent cover-up.

Experience of Key Personnel

The top three Key Personnel within our company have combined work experience of more than 27 years in the construction industry. Our goal is to provide our clients with outstanding customer service while rapidly resolving any issues with practical solutions. We strive to produce quality work efficiently to maximize profit and reduce costs.

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

NM Contracting, LLC was incorporated in the State of Texas on November 6, 2008. The Company is a general contractor engaging in non-residential real estate projects. Projects consist of schools, warehouses, and various utility projects. The Company's area of business is predominately in the Rio Grande Valley located in South Texas.

Method of Accounting for Construction Contracts

Revenues on construction contracts are recognized on the percentage of completion method, measured by the percentage of costs incurred to date to the estimated total cost for each contract. Total cost is considered to be the best available measure of progress on the contracts. Contract costs include all direct and indirect costs related to contract performance. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined.

Construction contracts contain retainage provisions which allow the customer to withhold amounts for payment until NM Contracting LLC, has completed its work. It is Company policy to bill these amounts and include them as a separate item in accounts receivable.

For contracts that are within the scope of FASB ASC Topic 606: Revenue from Contracts with Customers, the Company performs the five-step process: identify the contract with the customer, identify the performance obligations, determine the transaction price, allocate the price to the performance obligations, and recognize revenue with the satisfied performance obligation.

The Company evaluates whether two or more contracts should be combined and accounted for as one single performance obligation and whether a single contract should be accounted for as more than one performance obligation. ASC 606 defines a performance obligation as a contractual promise to transfer a distinct good or service to a customer. A contract's transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognized as revenue when the performance obligation is satisfied. The Company's evaluation requires significant judgment and the decision to combine a group of contracts or separate a contract into multiple performance obligations could change the amount of revenue and profit recorded in a given period. The majority of the Company's contracts have a single performance obligation, as the promise to transfer the individual goods or services is not separately identifiable from other promises in the contract and, therefore, is not distinct.

Revenues related to contracts with customers are primarily derived from fixed-price construction contracts. The Company has determined that generally these fixed-price construction projects provide a distinct service and, therefore, qualify as one performance obligation as the promise to transfer the individual goods or services is not separately identifiable from other promises in the contracts and, therefore, not distinct. Revenue is recognized over time, because of the continuous transfer of control to the customer as work is performed at the customer's site and, therefore, the customer controls the asset as it is being constructed. Revenue is recognized using an input measure of costs incurred to date relative to total estimated costs at completion to measure progress. This measure of progress best depicts the transfer of control of assets to the customer, which occurs as costs are incurred.

Adjustments to projected costs are made periodically and losses expected to be incurred on contracts in process are charged to operations in the period in which such losses are determined. Claims for additional contract revenue are recognized when realization of the claim is assured, and the amount can be reasonably determined.

Revenue from time and materials contracts are recognized in the period in which the work is performed. The Company determined that generally time and material contracts contain a single performance obligation as the services provided by the contracts are considered a series that are substantially the same and have the same pattern of transfer to the customer. The performance obligation is considered to be satisfied over time since the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of the time and material contracts.

The "Costs and Estimated Earnings in Excess of Billings on Contracts" asset account represents revenues recognized in excess of amount billed on long-term contracts. The "Billings in Excess of Costs and Estimated Earnings on Uncompleted Contracts" liability account represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

Cost of earned revenues include all direct material, direct labor, subcontractor costs, and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as supplies, freight, repairs, and depreciation costs. Both indirect and general and administrative costs are expensed as incurred.

In the case of contracts which require more than one year to complete, changes in job performance, job conditions, estimated profitability and final contract settlements which result in revisions to costs and income are recognized in the accounting period in which these matters become known.

Management estimates the financial costs to complete a given contract based on information available at the balance sheet date. Estimates of costs to complete certain contracts can change significantly in the near term, and ultimate outcomes of contracts subject to customer review are not known. Due to these uncertainties, it is reasonably possible that actual financial results could differ from management's estimates.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and are being depreciated, primarily on a straight-line basis, over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Equipment and Trucks	3 to 10 years
Furniture and Fixtures	5 to 10 years

Depreciation expense for the period ended December 31, 2023 is $113,824.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires that management make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Construction revenues are recognized on the percentage-of-completion basis. Consequently, revenues and gross profit for each accounting period is determined on a contract-to-contract basis by reference to the costs incurred to date as a percentage of total estimated costs. Such estimates are subject to change in the normal course of business.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For financial statement purposes, the Company considers all deposited funds including time deposits with a maturity date of less than three months to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

Customer accounts receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect on balances. Management closely monitors outstanding balances and writes - off, as deemed necessary, all balances past due after a certain period of time and for which all collection efforts have been exhausted.

No allowance for uncollectible accounts has been provided since management has determined that the potential for bad debts is not material at year end.

To Whom it May Concern:

This letter is to provide a reference for Tri-Gen Construction, LLC. ADM Group, Inc. has had the pleasure of working with Tri-Gen on several projects for the Lyford Consolidated Independent School District since 2022 in both a low bid and CMAR capacity. These projects have included two interior locker room and athletic offices renovations that demolished and rebuilt existing interior space, a new 15,000 SF PE/athletic facility with locker rooms and gymnasium space, and a new 17,000 SF auditorium with 677 fixed seats. Construction types have ranged from conventional framing, to PEMB, to masonry and steel.

Tri-Gen takes pride in their work, and this is evident in the attention to detail and constant managing of the team to ensure the project is delivered on time, on budget, and on schedule. Particularly with school projects, a sense of urgency for schedule and respect for taxpayer dollars is important, and Tri-Gen does a great job in these aspects. Tri-Gen is very familiar with local Region 1 based subcontractors and has built excellent relationships to ensure a responsive team for projects. In addition, relationships with local AHJ's and utility companies have resulted in expedited response time that could in some cases take months.

Tri-Gen is a great team member, and I would highly recommend them for future work. Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Tri-Gen Construction, who recently managed the rehabilitation project for the City of Mercedes Police Department building. This project was particularly challenging as the building had been practically abandoned and required extensive renovations to bring it back to operational status. Some of the issues addressed included mold, lead, water infiltration and waste water issues.

From the onset, Tri-Gen Construction demonstrated exceptional professionalism, commitment, and expertise. They approached the project with a thorough understanding of the building's conditions and crafted a detailed plan that addressed all necessary renovations while ensuring minimal disruption to the community.

Key highlights of their performance include:

1. Quality of Work: The quality of work executed by Tri-Gen Construction was outstanding. They meticulously restored the building, paying close attention to both structural integrity and aesthetic appeal. The final result is a state-of-the-art facility that meets all modern standards and requirements for our police department.
2. Project Management: Tri-Gen Construction showcased exemplary project management skills. They maintained a strict schedule and ensured that all milestones were met on time. Their ability to coordinate effectively with subcontractors, suppliers, and city officials was crucial in the seamless progression of the project.
3. Problem Solving: During the rehabilitation process, several unforeseen challenges arose due to the building's dilapidated state. Tri-Gen Construction addressed each issue promptly and effectively, providing innovative solutions that kept the project on track and within budget.
4. Communication: Clear and consistent communication was a hallmark of their service. We were kept informed at every stage of the project, with regular updates and transparent reporting. This open line of communication fostered a collaborative relationship and ensured that our needs and expectations were continually met.
5. Dedication: The team at Tri-Gen Construction displayed a high level of dedication and passion for their work. Their commitment to the project was evident in the long hours they put in and their unwavering focus on delivering the best possible outcome.

In conclusion, I highly recommend Tri-Gen Construction for any construction or rehabilitation projects. Their expertise, professionalism, and dedication to quality make them an invaluable partner. The City of Mercedes is extremely pleased with the transformed police department building, which stands as a testament to Tri-Gen Construction's exceptional capabilities.

RE: Letter of Recommendation for Tri-Gen

It is with great confidence I highly recommend Tri-Gen Construction for your school district. As a Superintendent I have had the pleasure of working with the Tri-Gen team through the planning, building and completion phases of multiple construction projects centered on student use.

Over the past two years, the Tri-Gen team has demonstrated a commitment to excellence, maintained high levels of professionalism and have shown extensive knowledge and skills as project managers, Construction manager at Risk and general contractors. During our projects, Tri-Gen worked closely with subcontractors to monitor quality of service and monitoring of costs to ensure budgeting was observed and met. Additionally, it is important to note the Tri-Gen team maintains high standards for safety not only for their own team but for district students and staff.

Finally, I would be remised if I did not mention the work ethic and quality of final product. Throughout our projects, Tri-Gen coordinated with the architects and administration to ensure that the quality of the building designs was met.

If I can offer further information or assistance, please don't hesitate to contact me at (956) 639 – 4985 or knbrown@ldisd.net

Re: TriGen Construction, LLC

Letter of Recommendation

To whom it may concern:

It is my understanding TriGen Construction is pursuing business with your organization. I am delighted to share that TriGen has been an excellent partner. As a mechanical subcontractor, we have had the pleasure to work with TriGen on numerous projects over the last 4 years. Currently, we are finishing our third Lyford CISD project with them.

TriGen's dedication to job performance, quality and consistency has put them on our list of favorite general contractors to work with. The cooperation and collaboration Connie and Manuel bring to the table every day is greatly appreciated. Not only are RFIs and submittals reviewed and returned quickly, but Connie and Manuel visit the jobsites regularly to help coordinate any field changes promptly and ensure the construction schedule is not compromised. When it comes to payment applications, TriGen's turnaround time is prompt and hassle-free. I will not indicate how quickly they pay because it varies and I wouldn't want to put them on the spot, but they are the fastest paying general contractor we ever have dealt with.

I would highly recommend TriGen Construction to any developer that requires and appreciates a general contractor who takes ownership of a project, solves problems, and provides an elevated level of customer service. This is a group that understands the commitment it takes to keep a successful relationship with their customers. If you should wish to discuss their performance, please feel free to contact me.

Lendmark
Financial Services

February 12, 2023

To Whom it May Concern,

Lendmark Financial Services LLC engaged Tri-Gen Construction, LLC in January 2020 to build a branch location for Lendmark in Weslaco, TX. Connie Beardon was our Tri-Gen Project Manager. Connie oversaw every aspect of the job from permitting to construction completion.

Connie was very professional, quick to respond to our questions, detail oriented and she communicated the progress of build out to us very well. Originally Tri-Gen was given a completion date on 2/28/2020. I was very impressed when they completed the job on 2/12/2020, two and half weeks early. The construction crew was hard working, paid attention to detail and took pride in their work. Overall, Tri-Gen Construction hit the ground running and exceeded my expectations.

Since then, Tri-Gen Construction has completed 6 (six) remodel/finish outs for us through out the state of Texas. When we are opening a new location, they are our first call. Even while traveling - they are second to none in price and quality.

I would highly recommend Tri-Gen Construction, LLC for future construction jobs with Lendmark Financial Services, LLC. My overall experience was excellent.

Tri-Gen Construction, LLC

Safety Policy

I. OBJECTIVE

The Safety Policy of Tri-Gen Construction, LLC is designed to comply with the Standards of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, and to endeavor to maintain a safe and injury/illness free workplace. A copy of the OSHA Safety and Health Standards are available in the project manual and in the main office.

Compliance with the following Safety Policy and all items contained therein is mandatory for all employees of the company. The authorization and responsibility for enforcement has been given primarily to the Responsible Person. The Other Responsible Person(s) share in this responsibility as well.

II. POLICY

It is company policy that accident prevention be a prime concern of all employees and subcontractors. This includes the safety and well being of our employees, subcontractors, and customers, as well as the prevention of wasteful, inefficient operations, and damage to property and equipment.

III. APPLICABILITY

This Safety Policy applies to all employees of Tri-Gen Construction, regardless of position within the company. The Safety Rules contained herein apply to all subcontractors and anyone who is on a company project site.

Every employee is expected to comply with the Safety Policy, as well as OSHA Health and Safety Standards.

IV. IMPLEMENTATION

This Safety Policy supports six fundamental means of maximum employee involvement:

A. Management commitment to safety.
B. Weekly tool box safety meetings at all jobsites.
C. Effective job safety training for all categories of employees.
D. Job hazard analysis provided to all employees.

E. Audio and/or visual safety presentations given at jobsites by Responsible Person.
F. Various incentive awards for exemplary safety performance.

The Responsible Persons will meet at least once a month to evaluate all areas of safety and make recommendations to the company president.

V. ADMINISTRATION

The Safety Policy will be carried out according to guidelines established and published in this and other related procedures. Specific instructions and assistance will be provided by Responsible Person as requested. Each supervisor will be responsible for meeting all of the requirements of the Safety Policy, and for maintaining an effective accident prevention effort within his or her area of responsibility. Each supervisor must also ensure that all accidents are thoroughly investigated and reported to Responsible Person(s) on the same day of the occurrence.

VI. REPORTING OF INJURIES

All employees will be held accountable for filling out a "Notice of Injury Form" immediately after an injury occurs, even if medical treatment is not required. (Notice must be made at or near the time of the injury and on the same day of the injury.) Employees must report the injury to their supervisor/leadman/foreman/superintendent/project manager, etc. A casual mentioning of the injury will not be sufficient. Employees must let their supervisor know:

A. How they think they hurt themselves.
B. What they were doing at the time.
C. Who they were working with at the time.
D. When and where it happened.
E. Other pertinent information that will aid in the investigation of the incident.

Failure to report an injury immediately (meaning at or near the time of the injury and on the same day of the injury) is a violation of the Safety Policy, and may result in immediate termination, in accordance with company policy.

VII. NOTIFICATIONS

A. In Case of Serious Injury or Death

After the injured has been taken to the hospital, the leadman/foreman/supervisor shall notify the main office and Responsible Person(s) as soon as possible. Statements from witnesses shall be taken. Statements are to be signed by witnesses and should include the time and date. Photographs of the area where the incident occurred and any other relevant items are to be taken. Responsible Person will assist in the investigation. The completed accident report form will be sent to the main office.

B. In Case of Inspection by OSHA Inspector

The leadman/foreman/supervisor must notify Responsible Person(s) that an OSHA Inspector is on the jobsite. It is the responsibility of all employees to make the inspector's visit on the jobsite as pleasant and timely as possible.

VIII. BASIC SAFETY RULES

A. Compliance with applicable federal, state, county, city, client, and company safety rules and regulations is a condition of employment.

B. All injuries, regardless of how minor, must be reported to your supervisor and the Safety Office immediately. An employee who fails to fill out a "Notice Of Injury Form" and send it to the Safety Office can be issued a safety violation notice and may be subject to termination, in accordance with company policy. In the event of an accident involving personal injury or damage to property, all persons involved in any way will be required to submit to drug testing.

C. Hard hats will be worn by all employees on the project site at all times. The bill of the hard hat will be worn in front at all times. Alterations or modifications of the hat or liner are prohibited. Crane operators, when in an enclosed cab, have the option of not wearing a hard hat due to the possible obstruction of view.

D. Safety glasses will be worn as the minimum-required eye protection at all times. Additional eye and face protection such as mono-goggles and face shields are required for such operations as grinding, jack hammering, utilizing compressed air or handling chemicals, acids and caustics. Burning goggles for cutting, burning or brazing and welding hoods for welding, etc., are required.

E. Fall Protection Requirements

1. Full body harnesses and lanyards shall be worn and secured any time there is a fall hazard of more than six (6) feet.
2. Lifelines shall be erected to provide fall protection where work is required in areas where permanent protection is not in place. 3. Structural steel erectors are required to "hook up" with full body harness and lanyard.

4. Employees using lanyards to access the work or position themselves on a wall or column, etc., must use an additional safety lanyard for fall protection.
5. Manlifts must be used properly. As soon as an employee enters an articulating boom lift and before the lift is started, the employee must put on the harness and attach the lanyard to the lift. Employees are not required to wear harnesses on scissor lifts.

F. Clothing must provide adequate protection to the body. Shirts must have at least a tee sleeve. Shirts with sleeves and long pants will be worn at all times. No shorts are to be worn on projects. All employees, except welders and burners, must tuck shirt tails inside trousers. Burners and welders will not be permitted to wear polyester or nylon clothing. Sturdy work boots with rigid, slip resistant soles are required. No clogs, tennis shoes or loafers are permitted. Steel-toed tennis shoes with the ANSI label are the only alternative to the leather work boot.

G. All personnel will be required to attend safety meetings as stipulated by project requirements in order to meet OSHA Safety Standards.

H. Firearms, alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs are not allowed on company property or in company vehicles at any time. When drugs are prescribed by a physician, the Responsible Person must be informed. The use or possession of illegal drugs or alcoholic beverages on the jobsite will result in immediate termination.

J. Burning and cutting equipment shall be checked daily before being used. Flash back arresters shall be installed at the regulators on both oxygen and LP bottles. All gas shall be shut off and hoses disconnected from bottles and manifolds at the end of the work day. Caps shall be replaced on bottles when gauges are removed. When gauges are removed and caps replaced, the oxygen and LP bottles shall be separated into storage areas no less than 20 feet apart with a "No Fire or Smoking" sign posted and a fire extinguisher readily available. Makeshift field repairs will not be allowed.

K. Drinking water containers are to be used for drinking water and ice only. Tampering with or placing items such as drinks in the water cooler will result in immediate termination. The "common drinking cup" is not allowed. Only disposable cups will be used.

L. All tools whether company or personal, must be in good working condition. Defective tools will not be used. Examples of defective tools include chisels with mushroomed heads, hammers with loose or split handles, guards missing on saws or grinders, etc.

M. All extension cords, drop cords, and electrical tools shall be checked, properly grounded with ground fault interrupters (GFI′ s), and color-coded by a designated competent person each month. This shall be part of the assured grounding program. Cords and equipment that do not meet requirements shall be immediately tagged and removed from service until repairs have been made.

N. "Horseplay" on the jobsite is strictly prohibited. Running on the jobsite is allowed only in extreme emergencies.

O. Glass containers or bottles of any kind are not permitted on jobsites or in company vehicles.

P. The jobsite speed limit is 10 MPH. No employee is permitted to ride in the bed of a truck standing up or sitting on the outside edges of a truck. Employees must be sitting down inside the truck or truck bed when the vehicle is in motion. Riding as a passenger on equipment is prohibited unless the equipment has the safe capacity for transporting personnel.

Q. Adequate precautions must be taken to protect employees and equipment from hot work such as welding or burning. Fire extinguishing equipment shall be no further than 50 feet away from all hot work. Used fire extinguishers must be returned to (Responsible Person) to be recharged immediately. Use of welding blinds is required in high traffic areas.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2022

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of Tri-Gen Construction, L.L.C. (the Company) is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are the representation of the Company's members who are responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements.

1. Organization and Business Activity

The Company, (a Texas Limited Liability Company), operates in the construction industry in Weslaco, Texas. Primary customers are commercial entities.

2. Basis of Financial Statement Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues in the accounting period in which revenues are earned regardless of when cash is received and recognizes expenses in the accounting period in which expenses are incurred regardless of when cash is distributed. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability may result in revisions to costs and income, which are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined. Changes in estimated job profitability resulting from job performance, job conditions, contract penalty provisions, claims, change orders, and settlements, are accounted for as changes in estimates in the current period.

The asset, "Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts," represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. The liability, "Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts" represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

3. Revenue and Cost Recognition

Under ASC 606, revenue is recognized when the customer obtains control of promised goods or services in amounts that reflect the consideration which the entity expected to receive in exchange of goods and services. The Company does not collect sales, value-add and other taxes collected on behalf of third parties. To determine revenue recognition for arrangements that an entity determines are within the scope of ASC 606, the Corporation performs the following five steps: (1) identify the contracts with customer; (2) identify the performance obligations in contract; (3) determine the transaction price; (4) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligation in the contract; and (5) recognize revenue when (or as) the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

Fixed-fee and modified fixed-price contracts comprise multiple deliverables which include a significant integration service and are therefore recognized as a single performance obligation. Revenue from fixed-fee and modified fixed-price construction contracts is recognized over time in the period in which the services are rendered using the input method, determined based the proportion of construction costs incurred for work performed to date over the estimated total construction costs. Revenue is recognized over time because of the continuous transfer of control to the customer as work is performed at the customer's site, and therefore, the customer controls the asset as it is being constructed. Revenue from cost-plus fee contracts and time-and-charge contracts is recognized on the basis of actual costs incurred during the period plus the fee earned. However, due to the nature of the contracting business and the type of contracts, the current estimates or earnings and losses on contracts may differ materially from the ultimate results upon completion of the contracts. Transaction price is computed based on the price specified in the contract and adjusted for any variable consideration such as incentives and penalties.

Contract cost includes all direct material and labor costs and the indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, tools, repairs and depreciation. General and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provision for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts is made in the period in which losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability, including those arising from contract penalty provisions, and final contract settlements may result in revision to costs and income and are recognized in the period in which revision are determined. Cost to mobilize equipment and labor to a jobsite prior to substantive work beginning is capitalized as incurred and amortized over the expected duration of contract. As of December 31, 2022, the Company has not capitalized mobilization cost.

Some contracts have certain milestone due dates that must be met or the Company could be subject to penalties for liquidated damages if claims are asserted by the customer and the Company is responsible for delays. These contractual requirements generally relate to specified activities that must occur for a project by a specified date. Each contract defines the conditions under which customer may make a claim against the Company for such damages. The Company has determined that no claims for liquidated damages meet the criteria for accrual at December 31, 2022.

4. Advertising and Promotion

The Company expenses advertising and promotional costs as they are incurred.

5. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the members to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

6. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is provided over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged against operations. Renewals and betterments that materially extend the life of the assets are capitalized.

7. Income Taxes

The Company before January 1, 2022 was treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. Consequently, federal income taxes were not payable by, or provided for, the Company. Members were taxed individually on their shares of the Company's earnings. The Company's net income or loss was allocated among the members in accordance with the regulations of the Company.

As of January 1, 2022, the Company made the entity classification election to be treated as a corporation. Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due plus deferred taxes related primarily to differences between the bases of certain assets and liabilities for financial and tax reporting. The deferred taxes represent the future tax return consequences of those differences, which will either be deductible or taxable when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled.

8. Deferred Income Taxes

For income tax reporting, the Company uses accounting methods that recognize depreciation sooner than for financial statement reporting. As a result, the basis of property and equipment for financial reporting exceeds its tax basis by the cumulative amount that accelerated depreciation exceeds straight-line depreciation. Deferred income taxes have been recorded for the excess, which will be taxable in future periods through reduced depreciation deductions for tax purposes.

9. Compensated Absences

Company policies provide for one week's vacation after the first year of employment and two weeks after two years of employment. As of December 31, 2022, the company had $5,386 of unused vacation obligation.

10. Cash on Hand and Deposit

For the purpose of reporting cash flows, cash is considered to be unrestricted cash on deposit and a Company savings account in the amount of $243,459.

11. Contracts Receivable

Contracts receivable are recorded when invoices are issued and are presented in the balance sheet net of the allowance for doubtful accounts. Contracts receivable are written off when they are determined to be uncollectible. The allowance for doubtful accounts is estimated based on the Company's historical losses, the existing economic conditions in the construction industry, and the financial stability of its customers. The Company believes no allowance for doubtful accounts is necessary at December 31, 2022.

Contracts currently due	$ 1,205,384
Retainage	372,601
	$ 1,577,985

As of December 31, 2021, the balance of contracts receivable was $376,653

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – Continued

In accordance with this alternative, the Company does not evaluate entities that meet the requirements in the variable interest entities subsections of FASB ASC 810-10. Instead, the Company discloses information required by the accounting alternative, including the nature, risks, and maximum exposure to loss associated with the Company's involvement with the legal entity under common control.

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of Tri-Gen Construction, L.L.C. (the Company) is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are the representation of the Company's members who are responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements.

1. Organization and Business Activity

The Company, (a Texas Limited Liability Company), operates in the construction industry in Weslaco, Texas. Primary customers are commercial entities.

2. Basis of Financial Statement Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues in the accounting period in which revenues are earned regardless of when cash is received and recognizes expenses in the accounting period in which expenses are incurred regardless of when cash is distributed. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability may result in revisions to costs and income, which are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined. Changes in estimated job profitability resulting from job performance, job conditions, contract penalty provisions, claims, change orders, and settlements, are accounted for as changes in estimates in the current period.

The asset, "Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts," represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. The liability, "Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts" represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

3. Revenue and Cost Recognition

Under ASC 606, revenue is recognized when the customer obtains control of promised goods or services in amounts that reflect the consideration which the entity expected to receive in exchange of goods and services. The Company does not collect sales, value-add and other taxes collected on behalf of third parties. To determine revenue recognition for arrangements that an entity determines are within the scope of ASC 606, the Corporation performs the following five steps: (1) identify the contracts with customer; (2) identify the performance obligations in contract; (3) determine the transaction price; (4) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligation in the contract; and (5) recognize revenue when (or as) the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

Fixed-fee and modified fixed-price contracts comprise multiple deliverables which include a significant integration service and are therefore recognized as a single performance obligation. Revenue from fixed-fee and modified fixed-price construction contracts is recognized over time in the period in which the services are rendered using the input method, determined based the proportion of construction costs incurred for work performed to date over the estimated total construction costs. Revenue is recognized over time because of the continuous transfer of control to the customer as work is performed at the customer's site, and therefore, the customer controls the asset as it is being constructed. Revenue from cost-plus fee contracts and time-and-charge contracts is recognized on the basis of actual costs incurred during the period plus the fee earned. However, due to the nature of the contracting business and the type of contracts, the current estimates or earnings and losses on contracts may differ materially from the ultimate results upon completion of the contracts. Transaction price is computed based on the price specified in the contract and adjusted for any variable consideration such as incentives and penalties.

Contract cost includes all direct material and labor costs and the indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, tools, repairs and depreciation. General and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provision for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts is made in the period in which losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions, and estimated profitability, including those arising from contract penalty provisions, and final contract settlements may result in revision to costs and income and are recognized in the period in which revision are determined. Cost to mobilize equipment and labor to a jobsite prior to substantive work beginning is capitalized as incurred and amortized over the expected duration of contract. As of December 31, 2023, the Company has not capitalized mobilization cost.

Some contracts have certain milestone due dates that must be met or the Company could be subject to penalties for liquidated damages if claims are asserted by the customer and the Company is responsible for delays. These contractual requirements generally relate to specified activities that must occur for a project by a specified date. Each contract defines the conditions under which customer may make a claim against the Company for such damages. The Company has determined that no claims for liquidated damages meet the criteria for accrual at December 31, 2023.

4. Advertising and Promotion

The Company expenses advertising and promotional costs as they are incurred.

5. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the members to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

6. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is provided over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged against operations. Renewals and betterments that materially extend the life of the assets are capitalized.

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – Continued

7. Income Taxes

The Company before January 1, 2022 was treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. Consequently, federal income taxes were not payable by, or provided for, the Company. Members were taxed individually on their shares of the Company's earnings. The Company's net income or loss was allocated among the members in accordance with the regulations of the Company.

As of January 1, 2022, the Company made the entity classification election to be treated as a corporation. Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due plus deferred taxes related primarily to differences between the bases of certain assets and liabilities for financial and tax reporting. The deferred taxes represent the future tax return consequences of those differences, which will either be deductible or taxable when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled.

8. Deferred Income Taxes

For income tax reporting, the Company uses accounting methods that recognize depreciation sooner than for financial statement reporting. As a result, the basis of property and equipment for financial reporting exceeds its tax basis by the cumulative amount that accelerated depreciation exceeds straight-line depreciation. Deferred income taxes have been recorded for the excess, which will be taxable in future periods through reduced depreciation deductions for tax purposes.

9. Compensated Absences

Company policies provide for one week's vacation after the first year of employment and two weeks after two years of employment. As of December 31, 2023, the company had $7,498 of unused vacation obligation.

10. Cash on Hand and Deposit

For the purpose of reporting cash flows, cash is considered to be unrestricted cash on deposit and a Company savings account in the amount of $19,681.

11. Contracts Receivable

Contracts receivable are recorded when invoices are issued and are presented in the balance sheet net of the allowance for doubtful accounts. Contracts receivable are written off when they are determined to be uncollectible. The allowance for doubtful accounts is estimated based on the Company's historical losses, the existing economic conditions in the construction industry, and the financial stability of its customers. The Company believes no allowance for doubtful accounts is necessary at December 31, 2023.

Contracts currently due	$ 866,354
Retainage	271,799
	$ 1,138,153

As of December 31, 2022, the balance of contracts receivable was $1,577,985

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – Continued

12. Entities Under Common Control Accounting Alternative

The Company has adopted the accounting alternative offered in FASB ASC 810-10 to private companies under common control. In accordance with this alternative, the Company does not evaluate entities that meet the requirements in the variable interest entities subsections of FASB ASC 810-10. Instead, the Company discloses information required by the accounting alternative, including the nature, risks, and maximum exposure to loss associated with the Company's involvement with the legal entity under common control.

NOTE B – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

C. Setting Blocks: Elastomeric material with a Shore, Type A durometer hardness of 85, plus or minus 5.

D. Spacers: Elastomeric blocks or continuous extrusions of hardness required by security glazing manufacturer to maintain security glazing lites in place for installation indicated.

E. Edge Blocks: Elastomeric material of hardness needed to limit security glazing lateral movement (side walking).

F. Cylindrical Glazing Sealant Backing: ASTM C 1330, Type O (open-cell material), of size and density to control glazing sealant depth and otherwise produce optimum glazing sealant performance.

2.08 FABRICATION OF SECURITY GLAZING

A. Fabricate security glazing in sizes required to fit openings indicated for Project, with edge and face clearances, edge and surface conditions, and bite complying with written instructions of product manufacturer and referenced glazing publications, to comply with system performance requirements.

PART 3 - EXECUTION

3.01 EXAMINATION

A. Examine framing for security glazing, with Installer present, for compliance with the following:

1. Manufacturing and installation tolerances, including those for size, squareness, and offsets at corners.
2. Presence and functioning of weep system.
3. Minimum required face or edge clearances.
4. Minimum required bite.
5. Effective sealing between joints of framing members.

B. Proceed with installation only after unsatisfactory conditions have been corrected.

3.02 PREPARATION

A. Clean glazing channels and other framing members receiving security glazing immediately before glazing. Remove coatings not firmly bonded to substrates.

3.03 GLAZING, GENERAL

A. Comply with combined written instructions of manufacturers of security glazing, sealants, gaskets, and other glazing materials unless more stringent requirements are indicated, including those in referenced glazing publications.

B. Protect edges of security glazing from damage during handling and installation. Remove damaged security glazing from Project site and legally dispose of off Project site. Damaged security glazing includes units with edge or face damage or other imperfections that, when installed, could weaken security glazing and impair performance and appearance.

C. Apply primers to joint surfaces where required for adhesion of sealants, as determined by preconstruction testing.

D. Install setting blocks in sill rabbets, sized and located to comply with referenced glazing publications unless otherwise required by glazing unit manufacturer. Set blocks in thin course of compatible sealant suitable for heel bead.

E. Do not exceed edge pressures stipulated by security glazing manufacturers for installing lites.

F. Provide spacers for security glazing lites where the length plus width is larger than 50 inches.

1. Locate spacers directly opposite each other on both inside and outside faces of security glazing. Install correct size and spacing to preserve required face clearances unless gaskets and glazing tapes are used that have demonstrated ability to maintain required face clearances and to comply with performance requirements.

2. Provide 1/8-inch minimum bite of spacers on glazing lites and use thickness equal to sealant width. With glazing tape, use thickness slightly less than final compressed thickness of tape.

G. Provide edge blocking where indicated or needed to prevent security glazing from moving sideways in glazing channel, as recommended in writing by security glazing manufacturer and according to requirements in referenced glazing publications.

H. Set security glazing in each series with uniform pattern, draw, bow, and similar characteristics.

3.04 TAPE GLAZING

A. Position tapes on fixed stops so that, when compressed by security glazing, their exposed edges are flush with or protrude slightly above sightline of stops.

B. Install tapes continuously, but not necessarily in one continuous length. Do not stretch tapes to make them fit opening.

C. Cover vertical framing joints by applying tapes to heads and sills first and then to jambs. Cover horizontal framing joints by applying tapes to jambs and then to heads and sills.

D. Place joints in tapes at corners of opening with adjoining lengths butted together, not lapped. Seal joints in tapes with compatible sealant approved by tape manufacturer.

E. Do not remove release paper from tape until just before each glazing unit is installed.

F. Apply heel bead of elastomeric sealant.

G. Center security glazing in openings on setting blocks and press firmly against tape by inserting dense compression gaskets formed and installed to lock in place against faces of removable stops. Start gasket applications at corners and work toward centers of openings.

H. Apply cap bead of elastomeric sealant over exposed edge of tape.

3.05 GASKET GLAZING (DRY)

A. Cut compression gaskets to lengths recommended by gasket manufacturer to fit openings exactly, with allowance for stretch during installation.

B. Insert soft compression gasket securely in place between glazing unit and frame or fixed stop, so it is securely in place with joints miter cut and bonded together at corners.

C. Installation with Drive-in Wedge Gaskets: Center security glazing in openings on setting blocks and press firmly against soft compression gasket by inserting dense compression gaskets formed and installed to lock in place against faces of removable stops. Start gasket applications at corners and work toward centers of openings. Compress gaskets to produce a weathertight seal without developing bending stresses in security glazing. Seal gasket joints with sealant recommended by gasket manufacturer.

D. Installation with Pressure-Glazing Stops: Center security glazing in openings on setting blocks and press firmly against soft compression gasket. Install dense compression gaskets and pressure-glazing stops, applying pressure uniformly to compression gaskets. Compress gaskets to produce a weathertight seal without developing bending stresses in security glazing. Seal gasket joints with sealant recommended by gasket manufacturer.

E. Install gaskets so they protrude past face of glazing stops.

3.06 CLEANING AND PROTECTION

A. Immediately after installation remove nonpermanent labels and clean surfaces.

B. Protect security glazing from contact with contaminating substances resulting from construction operations, including weld splatter. Examine glass surfaces adjacent to or below exterior concrete and other masonry surfaces at frequent intervals during construction, but not less than once a month, for buildup of dirt, scum, alkaline deposits, or stains.

1. If, despite such protection, contaminating substances do come into contact with security glazing, remove substances immediately as recommended in writing by security glazing manufacturer. Remove and replace security glazing that cannot be cleaned without damage.

C. Wash security glazing on both exposed surfaces in each area of Project not more than four days before date scheduled for inspections that establish date of Substantial Completion. Wash security glazing as recommended in writing by security glazing manufacturer.

3.07 GLASS-CLAD POLYCARBONATE SECURITY GLAZING SCHEDULE

A. Clear Symmetrical Glass-Clad Polycarbonate.

1. Bullet Resistance: Level 3 according to UL 752.

SCHEDULE

Lean Scheduling

SpawGlass consistently achieves timely completion through detailed schedule development, monitoring of the schedule, assisting other team members in achieving the schedule and being prepared to immediately address and mitigate any issues that may impact the schedule. Lean processes drive our proactive approach to scheduling.

Our lean scheduling process includes:

P6 Baseline Schedule

We develop the project schedule utilizing Primavera P6 to plan and correlate all construction activities, including key submittals, milestones and critical delivery items.

Pull Planning

Working backwards from the completion date, pull planning breaks down the P6 master schedule into smaller batches that specialty contractors commit to and thus have more buy-in, producing a more detailed and reliable schedule.

Six-Week Look Ahead (SWLA)

Once the results of pull planning are documented and incorporated into the master schedule, our team hones in on the following six weeks of work. The SWLA schedule is refreshed every week and analyzed to seek out any constraints that would prevent scheduled construction activity from starting or continuing.

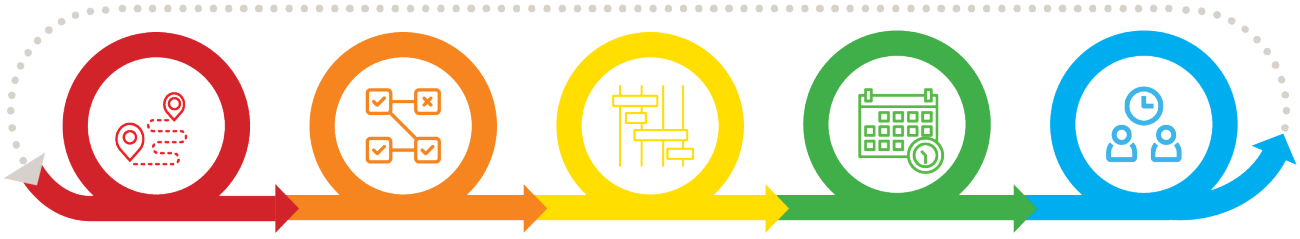
Weekly Work Plans (WWP)

The project team compiles a detailed one-week list of all tasks and activities that support the SWLA and pull planning results. The WWP clearly identifies the handoff points within an activity as well as the manpower needed to accomplish each task. Once each specialty contractor submits their WWP to the superintendent, and the SpawGlass team verifies that the week's plan follows and advances the SWLA and pull planning schedule.

Daily Huddles

To support the WWP, all specialty contractor foremen meet with the superintendent for a brief check-in on the day's work activity, review the WWP to keep tasks on track and confirm handoffs to the next specialty contractors. If necessary, adjustments are made to resolve any immediate coordination issues and prevent impact to the WWP and the project's overall progress.

Our Lean Scheduling Process



P6 Baseline Schedule

Documents the expected duration of a project, depicting the interrelationships and duration of all construction activities

Pull Planning Sessions

The P6 master schedule is broken down into smaller batches. These sessions are repeated as necessary every 10 to 12 weeks.

Six-Week Look Ahead

Provides a detailed breakdown of the work tasks by laying them out on weekly planning boards.

Weekly Work Plans

Clearly identifies the hand-off points within an activity and the manpower needed to accomplish each task.

Daily Huddles

The team reviews what was promised for the day, what is coming for everyone the following day, and uncovers any unforeseen issues that come to light.

WARRANTY MANAGEMENT

SpawGlass' proactive warranty service support philosophy begins with ensuring all materials and equipment are properly installed and commissioned, and all maintenance and operations personnel receive hands-on and written training.

With our South Texas Region office only a short drive from the project site, we will be able to quickly respond to any warranty requests that may arise.

Project Manager Claudia Castillo will continue as your single point-of-contact throughout the one-year warranty period. We will respond to every warranty request within 24 hours, inform The City of San Juan of the time required for corrections and make the corrections within the given timeframe. Our South Texas Region office will respond to any warranty request with our local workforce, if appropriate, or contact the responsible subcontractor to arrange correction.

To place a warranty request, The City of San Juan may:
1) directly contact Claudia Castillo (214-263-8193), Claudia.Castillo@SpawGlass.com
2) call our South Texas Region office (956-412-9880)
3) call our 24/7 toll-free phone number that is dedicated to warranty calls (800-771- 0422) or 4) send a Warranty Action Request form (included with closeout submittals) to our South Texas Region office.

We will notify The City of San Juan once corrections are completed, so the work may be inspected. Each warranty issue will be tracked to its final resolution. At the completion of the warranty period, we will submit a log of all warranty issues. Prior to the conclusion of the one-year warranty period, we will conduct a formalized walk-through with The City of San Juan and design team to identify any outstanding issues not previously addressed in the warranty period.

Teamwork
It's all about the team! We will conduct regular team meetings and set clear project goals that define what a successful project looks like to you and your stakeholders.

Collaboration
We will listen and understand everyone's viewpoint and utilize our strong reputation in the local subcontracting community to get better pricing and proven performers on the team.

Note:

Existing design of structure calls for HSS columns and I beam purlins. These materials have a significant impact on the cost of the structure. We have a proven I beam column with c purlin design that is significantly less. We would be interested if the client were interested in talking with us about a value engineered design.

Consideration and Action on a Resolution Suspending the June 25, 2025, Effective Date of the Rate Increase by Texas Gas Service Company, Under the Gas Reliability Infrastructure Program (GRIP).

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS:

Late last week, Texas Gas Service Company made an Interim Rate Adjustment or "GRIP" filings with the cities in its Rio Grande Valley Service Area. The Company is seeking recovery of $2,938,032 in invested capital attributable to customers in the Rio Grande Valley Service Area. The current filing will increase rates to residential customers by $2.63 per month. This compares to a $3.03 per month increase last year. The increase is currently scheduled to go into effect on June 24, 2025.

Under the GRIP (Gas Reliability Infrastructure Program) statute, municipalities do not have the authority to challenge a utility company's request for a rate increase. However, the City of San Juan may take action to suspend the effective date of the proposed rate increase by 45 days.

If the City of San Juan wishes to exercise this option, a draft resolution is attached for your consideration. The deadline to adopt this resolution is June 24, 2025.
